Created in 1965, the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission (DVRPC) is an interstate, intercounty, and intercity agency that provides continuing, comprehensive, and coordinated planning to shape a vision for the future growth of the Delaware Valley region. The region includes Bucks, Chester, Delaware, and Montgomery counties as well as the City of Philadelphia, in Pennsylvania; and Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, and Mercer counties in New Jersey.  DVRPC provides technical assistance and services, conducts high priority studies that respond to the request and demands of member state and local governments, fosters cooperation among various constituents to forge a consensus on diverse regional issues, determines and meets the needs of the private sector, and practices public outreach efforts to promote two-way communication and public awareness of regional issues and the commission.

Our logo is adapted from the official DVRPC seal, and is designed as a stylized image of the Delaware Valley.  The outer ring symbolizes the region as a whole while the diagonal bar signifies the Delaware River.  The two adjoining crescents represent the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report contains 1990 and 2000 demographic and employment data for each of the 1,912 Traffic Analysis Zones (TAZs), 355 municipalities, including three in Berks County, and 74 County Planning Areas (CPAs) in the Delaware Valley Region, which includes nine counties, five in Pennsylvania and four in New Jersey. The zonal socioeconomic data are among the direct inputs to DVRPC's regional travel simulation models which estimate travel patterns in the region, travel demand on individual highway facilities, transit ridership, highway vehicle miles traveled, and highway source air pollutant emissions.

Like the 1990 zonal data, the 2000 zonal data are drawn from the Census Transportation Planning Package (CTPP). Part 1 of the CTPP (worker and household characteristics by place of residence) includes demographic data, and Part 2 (worker characteristics by place of work) has employment information. The CTPP data were tabulated by the U.S. Bureau of the Census (CB) based on responses to the long-form questionnaire, which was distributed to about 17 percent of total households (1 in 6 households). The zonal data are not fully consistent with Census Summary Files 1 and 3 (SF1, SF3) data because of sampling errors, rounding, and other considerations to maintain respondents' confidentiality. Census zonal socioeconomic raw data, such as population, households (occupied housing units), employed persons, and employment have been adjusted so that aggregated municipal and county totals equal their counterparts in SF1 or SF3. The employment data shown in this report are generally higher than those estimated by the CB in SF3 because they account for workers who did not commute during the census week and for those who had multiple jobs.

The DVRPC region has 1,912 TAZs in the 2000 CTPP compared with 1,395 TAZs in the 1990 package. The 2000 TAZ data are aggregated to 1990 zones, municipal, and county levels. The CPA data are also included in this report for data analysis at larger geographic areas. There are 12 data tables in this report: five contain the population, households, and vehicles available to households; and seven contain employed persons by place of residence (workers) and employment data (jobs) by place of work. These tables are included in the appendices to this report.

The 2000 zonal population, households, vehicle availability, employed persons, and employment data included in this report are the best estimates available. Thus, they will be used as a base for transportation and regional planning studies until updated data become available from the 2010 Census.

I.    INTRODUCTION

This report contains the 2000 demographic and employment data for each of the 1,912 Traffic Analysis Zones (TAZs), 355 municipalities, including three in Berks County,  and 74 County Planning Areas (CPAs) in the Delaware Valley Region, which includes nine counties, five in Pennsylvania and four in New Jersey.  The zonal socioeconomic data are among the direct inputs to DVRPC's regional travel simulation models which estimate travel patterns in the region, travel demand on individual highway facilities, transit ridership, highway vehicle miles traveled, and highway source air pollutant emissions.  In addition, these data along with 1990 census zonal data, which are also included in this report, constitute the historical base needed to forecast year 2005, 2010, 2015, 2020, 2025, and 2030 demographic and employment characteristics, which are required to forecast future travel demand and perform air-quality conformity determinations in the region.  The data tables presented in this report cover all nine counties of the region, as well as three municipalities in Berks County, PA which were added to the DVRPC region after the 1990 Census when Pottstown became a small urbanized area (see Map 1).

Like the 1990 zonal data, the 2000 zonal data are drawn from the Census Transportation Planning Package (CTPP).  Part 1 of the CTPP (worker and household characteristics by place of residence) includes demographic data, and Part 2 (worker characteristics by place of work) has employment information.  The CTPP data were tabulated by the U.S. Bureau of the Census (CB) based on responses to the long-form questionnaire, which was distributed to about 17 percent of total households (1 in 6 households).  The zonal data are not fully consistent with Census Summary Files 1 and 3 (SF1, SF3) data because of sampling errors, rounding, and other considerations to maintain respondents' confidentiality.  Census zonal socioeconomic raw data, such as population, households (occupied housing units), employed persons, and employment have been adjusted so that aggregated municipal and county totals almost equal their counterparts in SF1 or SF3.  The employment data shown in this document are generally higher than those estimated by the CB in SF3 because they account for workers who did not commute during the census week and for those who had multiple jobs.

The DVRPC region has 1,912 TAZs in the 2000 CTPP compared with 1,395 TAZs in the 1990 package.  The 2000 TAZ data are aggregated to 1990 zones, municipal and county levels.  Municipalities are sometimes referred to as minor civil divisions (MCDs).  The CPA data are also included in this document for data analysis at larger geographic areas.

The error in the 2000 population zonal data is minimal and within the limits established by the CB for rounding population counts.  The difference between SF1 and corrected CTPP regional population is only 12 persons or 0.0 percent (5,387,409 vs. 5,337,421, respectively).  At the county level, the difference ranges from -15 to 14 persons (0.0%).  The difference at the municipal level ranges from 0 to 7 persons, and exceeds 4 persons in only 17 municipalities (out of 355).  The error in the municipal population estimates is about zero percent.

The error in the zonal employment data is larger than that found in the zonal population data.  Unlike population estimates, it is difficult to determine the margin of error in the zonal employment estimates because there are no accurate sources for county, municipal, and zonal employment data for comparative analysis and statistical evaluation.

Despite the small errors in the data, the 2000 zonal population, households, vehicle availability, employed persons, and employment data included in this report are the best estimates available.   Thus, they will be used as a base for transportation and regional planning studies until updated data become available from the 2010 Census.  Although both 1990 and 2000 population and employment data are reasonable, the errors in the 2000 data are smaller than those found in the 1990 data.

II.   REGIONAL AREAL SYSTEM

A.   1990 Traffic Analysis Zones (TAZs)

The 1990 traffic analysis zonal system was developed from the 1990 census tracts and the 1980 TAZs.  The 1980 TAZs largely followed the 1980 census tract boundaries, except in the Philadelphia CBD where block group boundaries formed the basis for TAZs.  The 1990 census geographic coding split many 1980 census tracts into two or more parts to reflect the growth of population and employment in suburban and rural areas of the region.  DVRPC's 1990 TAZs were similarly updated to reflect these changes.  The 1990 TAZ system retained the block group designations in the Philadelphia CBD where 12 census tracts were subdivided into 54 TAZs based on one-to-one correspondence between 1980 block groups and TAZs.  In addition, combinations of 1990 block groups were used as 1990 TAZs in selected suburban areas of the region that were growing rapidly, principally in Camden and Burlington counties.

In 1990, the region was expanded to include three municipalities in Berks County, PA, and was subdivided into a total of 1,395 TAZs compared with 1,335 zones in 1980.  Except for three additional zones in Berks County, the increase in the number of TAZs was due to the split of 1980's census tracts and the subdivision of seven suburban 1990 census tracts into aggregates of block groups.  As a result, the 1980 data for some zones were no longer directly comparable with their counterparts of 1990 zones; although for the majority of zones the 1990 data could be directly compared with the 1980's.

The 1990 TAZs can always be aggregated to 1980 TAZs and CPAs.  Since the boundaries of 1980 CPAs 1 through 71 had not been altered, all 1990 CPA data included in this document are comparable with tabulations based on 1980 traffic zones.  CPA 72 was created in 1990 for the three municipalities in Berks County, PA.  For correspondence between 1980 and 1990 TAZs and CPAs see 1990 Data Bank For Transportation Planning, DVRPC, October 1994.

B.   Development of 2000 Traffic Analysis Zones (TAZs)

Traditionally in designing an areal system for the travel simulation model, the boundaries of TAZs follow the CB tract geography.  By matching TAZs to census tracts, or block groups, the census data necessary for transportation planning could easily be input into the travel simulation models.  In 2000, for the first time, the CB allowed the subdivision of TAZs without respect to CB tract geography.  By providing a GIS package (TAZUP) the CB allowed Metropolitan Planning Organizations (MPOs) to design their own areal system and agreed to provide census data in the identified TAZs.

The process used to subdivide 1990 TAZs for the 2000 areal system involved an examination of both population and employment.  For each county, the 1990 TAZs were ranked from highest to lowest by 1997 population and in a second list, employment.  Preliminary thresholds were established identifying where TAZs would be subdivided into two, three, etc. new TAZs.  Although allowed in TAZUP, a decision was made to respect census geography and not violate tract boundaries when designing the new TAZs.  As a first run, natural boundaries, major transportation facilities, or other identifiable feature were selected to produce logical zonal subdivisions.  For population, block level population was then loaded into GIS software and block information aggregated to check subdivided TAZ totals.  Adjustments were then made to subzonal boundaries where necessary to achieve population totals within the desired thresholds.  For employment, each zone was examined to determine the location of major employers.  Subdivisions were designed to achieve employment totals within the desired thresholds.  Population and employment thresholds were designed to produce accurate traffic data by the travel simulation model.

In many urban and older suburban areas, subdivided TAZ boundaries respected block group boundaries, although a new TAZ might comprise several block groups.  In newer suburban areas where block groups had not been established by the CB, boundaries were chosen along major transportation facilities or natural features.

A final review identified 1990 TAZs which did not meet the criteria for subdivision by either population or employment, but whose land area was large enough to justify subdivision.  These TAZs were subdivided geographically to provide logical subzones.

The 2000 TAZ system was entered into TAZUP.  Maps for each county were produced and forwarded to the county planning commission for review and comment.  Modifications to the 2000 TAZ system were enacted based on county comments and the results were transmitted to the CB for obtaining the 2000 CTPP data at the zonal level.

C.   TAZs, CPAs, and County Correspondence

Table 1 presents the overall correspondence between counties, CPAs, 1990 TAZs, and 2000 TAZs for the entire DVRPC region.  This correspondence is used to aggregate 2000 TAZ-level data into 1990 TAZs, municipalities, CPAs, and county level data summaries which are included in this document.  Table 1 also shows that the number of TAZs has increased from 1,395 in 1990 to 1,912 in 2000.  The 2000 TAZs that were added to 1990 TAZs to make the 2000 zonal system are shown in bold in Table 1.

Except for Burlington and Chester counties CPAs, the 1990 CPA boundaries have not been altered in the 2000 areal system.  The Chester County Planning Commission recommended that the boundaries of some CPAs be changed to match school district boundaries.  As a result of Chester County comments, the number of CPAs has increased from 72 in 1990 to 74 in 2000.  In addition, Philadelphia and Delaware counties recommended name changes for some of their CPAs.  These changes are shown in bold under the CPA column in Table 1.

Maps 2 thru 11 show the 2000 TAZs for each county.  Map 12 indicates the 2000 County Planning Areas (CPAs) for the DVRPC Region.  Table 1 and Maps 2 thru 11 are prepared for a convenient correspondence between the data and various geographic units included in the 2000 areal system.

III.    DEMOGRAPHIC AND EMPLOYMENT DATA

A.   2000 Data Definition

According to the CB, the data included in this report are defined as follows:

1.   Population

All people, male and female, child and adult, living in a given geographic area, or the total number of inhabitants in an area without regard to race, gender or any other social and economic variables.  The 2000 CTPP zonal population data have been adjusted slightly by DVRPC to minimize the sampling errors in the 2000 zonal data.

2.   Households

A household includes all of the people who occupy a housing unit.  A housing unit is a house, an apartment, a mobile home, a group of rooms, or a single room occupied (or if vacant, intended for occupancy) as a separate living quarters.  Separate living quarters are those in which the occupants live separately from any other people in the building and that have direct access from the outside of the building or through a common hall. The occupants may be a single family, one person living alone, two or more families living together, or any other group of related or unrelated people who share living quarters.

In 100-percent tabulations, the count of households always equal the count of occupied housing units.  In sample tabulations, the numbers may differ as a result of the weighting process.  Like the population, the 2000 CTPP household tabulations have been adjusted slightly by DVRPC to minimize the errors in the zonal data included in this report.

3.   Vehicles Available

These data show the number of passenger cars, vans, and pickup or panel trucks of 1-ton capacity or less kept at home and available for the use of household members. Vehicles rented or leased for one month or more, company vehicles, and police and government vehicles are included if kept at home and used for nonbusiness purposes. Dismantled or immobile vehicles are excluded.  Vehicles kept at home but used only for business purposes also are excluded.  The 2000 CTPP vehicle availability data have been adjusted slightly by DVRPC to be consistent with household zonal data.

4.   Employed Persons

Employed persons includes all civilians 16 years old and over who were either (1) "at work" - those who did any work at all during the reference week (census week) as paid employees, worked in their own business or profession, worked on their own farm, or worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers on a family farm or in a family business; or

(2) were "with a job but not at work" - those who did not work during the reference week but had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent due to illness, bad weather, industrial dispute, vacation, or other personal reasons.  Excluded from the employed persons are people whose only activity consisted of work around the house or unpaid volunteer work for religious, charitable, and similar organizations; also excluded are people on active duty in the United States Armed Forces.  The reference week is the calendar week preceding the date on which the respondents completed their questionnaires or were interviewed.  This week may not be the same for all respondents.  The number of employed persons by place of residence has been adjusted slightly to minimize the errors in the sample data.

5.   Employment

The 2000 employment data were derived from answers to long-form questionnaire Items 21 and 25, which were asked of a sample of the population 16 years old and over.  The series of questions on employment status was designed to identify, in this sequence: (1) people who worked at any time during the reference week; (2) people who did not work during the reference week, but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent (excluding people on layoff); (3) people on temporary layoff who expected to be recalled to work within the next 6 months or who had been given a date to return to work, and who were available for work during the reference week; and (4) people who did not work during the reference week, who had looked for work during the reference week or the three previous weeks, and who were available for work during the reference week.  The census employment data, by place of work, have been adjusted to obtain total employment (jobs) at the county, municipal, and zonal levels.

6.   Industry

Information on industry relates to the kind of business conducted by a person's employing organization.  For employed people, the data refer to the person's job during the reference week.  For those who worked at two or more jobs, the data refer to the job at which the person worked the greatest number of hours.  Some examples of industrial groups include agriculture, forestry, and fisheries; construction; manufacturing; wholesale or retail trade; transportation and communication; personal, professional and entertainment services; and public administration.  The 2000 Census classifies establishments according to the new North American Industry Classification System (NAICS).  NAICS codes replace the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes used in previous censuses.  NAICS classifies industries using 2-, 3-, 4-, 5-, and 6- digit levels of detail.  2-digit codes represent sectors, the broadest classifications.  6-digit codes represent individual industries in the U.S.  Industrial sectors in this document have been adjusted slightly by DVRPC to be consistent with total employment estimates for the 2000 TAZs.  The employment sectors contained in the report are shown in the following listing:

1.  Agriculture, Forestry, Mining, and Fisheries
2.  Construction
3.  Manufacturing
4.  Transportation, Communication and other Public Utility
5.  Wholesale Trade
6.  Retail Trade
7.  Finance, Insurance and Real Estate (FIRE)
8.  Service
9.  Government and Public Administration
10. Armed Forces

B.  1990 and 2000 Data Tables

There are 12 data tables in this report: five contain the population, households, and vehicles available to households; and seven contain employed persons by place of residence (workers) and employment data (jobs) by place of work.

Appendix 1 shows the 1990 and 2000 zonal and municipal population, households, households with zero vehicles, one vehicle, two vehicles, three or more vehicles, and vehicles available to households for all 1,912 TAZs.  The data are aggregated to the municipal and county level.

Appendix 2 indicates the 1990 to 2000 change in municipal population for all 355 MCDs.  The data are aggregated to the county level.

Appendix 3 shows the 1990 to 2000 change in CPA population by county for all 74 CPAs.  It also includes maps showing this change for households and vehicle availability.  Figure 3-1 shows the 1990 to 2000 population change in the Delaware Valley Region by CPA, Figure 3-2 presents the 1990 to 2000 household change in the Delaware Valley Region by CPA, and Figure 3-3 shows vehicle availability change during the 1990s.

Appendix 4 presents the 1990 to 2000 change in county population and households for the nine counties of the DVRPC region and for the three municipalities in Berks County.

Appendix 5 shows the 1990 to 2000 change in vehicle availability for each county in the DVRPC region and for three municipalities in Berks County.

Appendix 6 indicates the 1990 to 2000 zonal and municipal employed persons (workers) by place of residence and employment (jobs) for all 1,912 TAZs and 355 municipalities.  Also, the data are aggregated to the county level.

Appendix 7 shows the 2000 zonal and municipal employment (jobs) by sector.  The employment sectors are: agriculture and mining, construction, manufacturing, transportation and utilities, wholesale trade, retail trade, finance, insurance and real estate (FIRE), service, government, and military.

Appendix 8 presents the 1990 to 2000 change in municipal employment for all 355 MCDs.

Appendix 9 indicates the 1990 to 2000 change in employment by County Planning Area (CPA) and it also shows maps displaying the 1990 to 2000 change in employed residents and employment.  Figures 9-1 and 9-2 present the 1990 to 2000 change in employed persons and employment, respectively.

Appendix 10 presents the 1990 to 2000 employed persons and employment change by county.  The county data are shown for the Pennsylvania counties, New Jersey counties, and DVRPC region.

Appendix 11 shows the 2000 employment estimates by county and sector for all DVRPC counties and Berks county.

Appendix 12 presents the 1990 to 2000 employment change by county and sector.  The percentages shown are for the total change in the 1990s.

ABSTRACT
This report contains the 1990 and 2000 population, households, vehicles available to households, number of vehicles, employed persons, and employment (jobs) for each of the 1,912 traffic analysis zones, 355 municipalities, 74 county planning areas, and 9 counties in the Delaware Valley Region. The data tables are included in 12 appendices to this report. The data are obtained from the Census Transportation Planning Package (CTPP) which is prepared by the US Bureau of the Census based on 1990 and 2000 Censuses. Correspondence between traffic analysis zones, municipalities, county planning areas, and counties is shown in tables as well as maps.
